City roads with cosmetic touch to greet PM Modi

- Drains being cleared on war-footing; night-long cleaning planned
- Regular road, footpath repairs to be taken up from June 18 to 20

Mysuru, June 6 (RK&BCT)- It appears that it takes the Prime Minister's visit for the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to keep the city clean and tidy. At least the people living or passing along the routes where PM Modi's cavalcade will move will breathe easy and commute on smooth roads at least for a few days.

Days ahead of the VVIP's visit, the MCC has plunged into action with fresh enthusiasm in keeping the city clean and tidy and also clear the clogged and stinking drains which otherwise take weeks to be cleaned.

Here too, the priority is given to the roads where the PM's convoy will pass. Say for example the route from Mysore Airport at Mandakalli where the PM's special plane will land on June 20 to the Radisson Blu Plaza hotel on M.G. Road where he will stay.

The route from M.G. Road to the Mysore Palace and the roads around the All India Institute of Speech and Hearing too are getting a facelift as the PM is scheduled to visit AIISH though his itinerary has not been made official. Sources in the MCC told SOM that the visit of the Prime Minister is no less than a festival and hence a drive to keep the surroundings clean has gained fresh momentum.

Mysuru sees 20 percent rise in Yoga performers every year

Trainees turn trainers; take up profession independently

Mysuru, June 6 (MTY&BCT)- It is pretty accurate to say Yoga has taken Mysuru by storm as the popularity of the practice is visible in the sheer number of Yoga performers in the last eight years.

Ever since Yoga got international recognition after the United Nations declared June 21 as the International Day of Yoga in 2014, from the earlier average of 10,000 daily performers, it has grown to over 75,000, which underlines the relative newness of the interest.

Though Yoga is an unorganised sector, it has seen exponential growth. Mysuru was known for Yoga even before the UN declaration. But after 2014, it has grown in leaps and bounds and the numbers indicate that there are 75,000 people who perform Yoga regularly at various locations in Mysuru, be it educational institutions, Yoga Schools and under individual Yoga trainers who have years of experience.

There are more than 3,000 Yoga teachers and students affiliated with the Mysuru Yoga Federation. Also, Yoga has turned out to be a lucrative career for many. The trainees become trainers after some years and they formally get training from AYUSH Department through certified courses and take up Yoga professionally at educational institutions.

Yoga Federation of Mysore President and GSS Foundation Head D. Srihari told Star of Mysore that apart from formal Yoga trainers, there are hundreds of trainers who have got practical training and have years of experience. Earlier, there would be hardly 100 or 120 Yoga trainers and today we have over 700 to 800 schools including individual trainers and large-scale Yoga trainers. Each school has a minimum of two to three teachers, he added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

What is the kind of value-based education I would like our students to receive? Making them pass examinations is not, should not be our ultimate aim. I place my emphasis on what I call the Panchasheel of education: the first is character building; the second is altruistic living; the third is reverence for all life and respect for the great ones of all faiths; the fourth is spiritual unfolding; and the fifth is cultivation of the soul. Character, compassion, culture and reverence for all life: these values capture the ideal of right education.

Therefore, today, more than ever before, we need a new type of education which will emphasise the spiritual and moral values of life. We need a new education which may offer students an integral training of the head, the hand and heart; and a proper discipline of willpower and the emotions. — Dada JP Vaswani in The Times of India

Once news of the world record broke, it spread quickly through the population of 17,000.

At 75 now, his daily routine involves waking up early for a 20-minute run, followed by a post-coffee headstand and 20 pushups.

Artist brings old craft of stained glass into the 21st century

Amsterdam: Arjan Boeve, aka 'Above', is a talented artist credited for bringing the old craft of stained glass-making into the 21st century by incorporating modern themes that the general public resonates with.

Stained glass is usually associated with religion, particularly with old churches and cathedrals, but through his project, Stained-Glass Geek, Dutch artist Arjan Boeve is showing younger generations that stained glass has a place in the modern world.

Boeve's stained glass stands out both because of its exquisite quality and crisp lines, but also because of its modern themes, including iconic video game, cartoon and anime characters like Mickey Mouse, Super Mario or Dragon Ball's Vegeta.

Mysuru city losing its charm?

Sir,

We chose to settle down in Mysuru that was once considered as Pensioners Paradise. But it seems like we made a wrong decision then.

Now, Mysuru has become dirty and is being neglected by local Corporators, legislators and the MP.

The city roads are full of craters, potholes and unwanted speed-brakers. The roads, especially in Vidyaranyapuram and its vicinity, are extremely pathetic and the cattle are freely roaming everywhere. It is increasingly becoming dangerous for the motorists to drive and for pedestrians to walk.

Why can't the authorities penalise the cattle owners or seize them and move them to specified areas? The city is losing its charm and at this rate Mysuru will soon be declared as the dirtiest city and unhygienic for living. Will the authorities please wake up?

MLC promises Rs. 10 lakh, to seek more grants from Govt.

Mysuru, June 6 (MTY&DM)-Assuring that Rs. 10 lakh will be given for establishing Ahilyabai Holkar Study Chair in KSOU, MLC A.H. Vishwanath said that he will also make efforts to get Government grants.

He was speaking at the 297th birth anniversary of Rajamata Ahilyabai Holkar at a programme organised by Shepherds India International at Cauvery auditorium in Muktagangothri campus along Hunsur road here recently.

Pointing out that while Shepherds India International will give Rs. 5 lakh, Kanakagiri Charitable Trust will give Rs. 5 lakh, Vishwanath, who is also the Founder-President of Shepherds India International, said that Ahilyabai Holkar who came from a Kuruba family of a rural region in Central India, went on to become a royal family member of the then Holkar dynasty at Indore.

Maintaining that Ahilyabai always fought for the cause of women and took some revolutionary decisions for their empowerment and welfare, the MLC regretted that despite her social contributions, she could not get a befitting place in the annals of history.

Contending that Kuruba community is a 12 crore strong community in the country, he said that the community members are scattered over almost all places of the country. Shepherds India International is working towards bringing them together, he added.

Responding to Vishwanath's plea for establishment of the Chair, KSOU Vice-Chancellor Prof. S. Vidyashankar said that the University has agreed to the MLC's proposal.

Pointing out that KSOU has already set up a Rs.15 lakh fund for the same, he said that necessary measures will be initiated for the establishment of the Chair in a fortnight.

Earlier, Haryana Governor Bandaru Dattatreya, who spoke after inaugurating the programme, said that Ahilyabai Holkar was a great patriot and an outstanding woman leader.

Pointing out that Ahilyabai who came from a rural family, went on to become the Queen of Holkar dynasty, he said that the development done during the regime of Holkar, played a key role in Indore getting the cleanest city tag in Swachh Bharat Abhiyaan. Ahilyabai was the source of inspiration for Prime Minister Modi's Beti Bachao Beti Padhao campaign, Dattatreya added.

Kaginele Shakha Mutt Seer Shivanandapuri Swamiji graced the occasion. Shepherds India International District President H. Beerappa, former Corporator Kamalamma and others were present on the occasion.

State Universities facing faculty shortage: UoM VC

Mysuru, June 6 (MTY&DM)-Observing that most of the Universities of the State were facing shortage of teaching faculty, University of Mysore (UoM) Vice-Chancellor (VC) Prof. G. Hemantha Kumar said that though the number of students was increasing with every year, the faculty shortage is hindering academic activities.

He was speaking at the felicitation programme of Vijayapura's Akkamahadevi University Vice-Chancellor Prof. B.K. Tulasimala organised by the UoM's Economics and Co-operation Department at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri campus here recently.

Pointing out that hard work and dedication is key for success and achievement in life, Prof. Hemantha Kumar stressed on the need for practicing discipline in life.

Now she has been serving Akkamahadevi University as its head for the past two years, he said adding that Prof. Tulasimala was a vociferous reader, which had catapulted her to this top position.

Prof. B.K. Tulasimala and Ramesh Tikoti couple were felicitated on the occasion.

Also, a 17-minute video documentary on the life and achievements of Prof. Tulasimala was screened.

Pooja Bhagavat Memorial Post-Graduate Centre Director Prof. C.K. Renukarya, UoM Economics and Co-operation Department Head Prof. Mahesh and others were present.

Benefits of research should reach people: MLC

Mysuru, June 6 (MTY&DM)-Regretting that research articles and papers are nowadays limited to just getting Doctoral degrees, MLC A.H. Vishwanath said that the benefits of research should reach the people.

He was speaking after releasing Spandana Rameshwar's work titled 'Bio-Diversity of Karnataka State Open University Campus' at a programme jointly organised by Inidani Mannamakkala Honnapadagala Balaga and PhDians Publishers at Cauvery auditorium in Muktagangothri campus here recently.

Observing that research papers are not even reaching the population, let alone benefiting them, Vishwanath recalled that he had met a Political Science faculty during Emergency and held discussions with him on writing a book in defence of Emergency.

Noting that research is going on political issues in different countries of the globe, the MLC bemoaned that hardly any research is being done on Gram Panchayat system, which is key in Indian politics. Expressing disappointment that no research is being carried out on understanding or reading the mind of a child by carrying out psychological studies, he advocated the need for a research on child education.

Opining that the KSOU which was established 25 years ago should have become a premier institution of the country by now, Vishwanath regretted that it was baffling to note that a Rs. 240 crore scam emerged when a scrutiny of files was done.

He stressed on the need for all to join hands in taking KSOU to much greater heights.

KSOU VC Prof. S. Vidyashankar, Registrar Prof. R. Rajanna, former Backward Classes Welfare Department Officer Y. Eranna, University of Mysore Biotechnology Department faculty Prof. S. Umesh, Dr. M. Umashankar, B.S. Mamata and others were present.

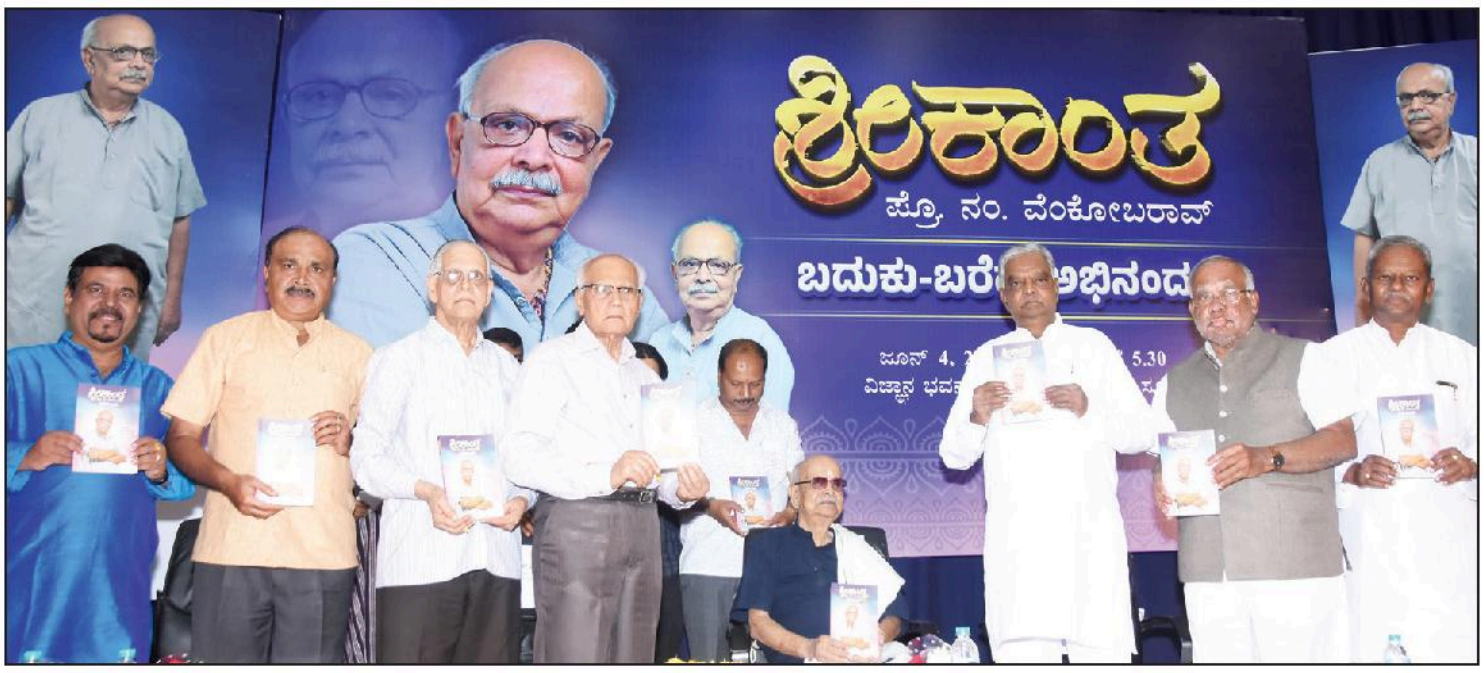
'Litterateurs should have a deep understanding of all facts'

Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa releases Prof. N. Venkoba Rao's felicitation volume



Mysuru, June 6 (SBD&DM)- Stressing on the need for littérateurs to have a deep understanding of all facts and Movements, acclaimed writer and Saraswathi Samman awardee Dr. S.L. Bhyrappa observed that, as otherwise, qualitative works cannot be scripted.

He was speaking after releasing freedom fighter, social worker and writer Prof. N. Venkoba Rao (Srikantha) felicitation volume titled 'Srikantha: Baduku-Baraha-Abhinandane' at a programme organised at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri campus here on Saturday.

Maintaining that the Ayodhya dispute went on for decades because of four Historians from Jawaharlal Nehru University, Dr. Bhyrappa said that the dispute prolonged as Left-leaning Historians argued with different and divergent views.

Noting that many problems have surfaced as we have ignored several issues other than politics, he said that Jagmohan, who was Jammu and Kashmir Governor earlier, has written a book titled 'My Frozen Turbulence in Kashmir,' which has highlighted many issues concerning Kashmir. In his book, Jagmohan has recalled how he was shown great respect by the then Pakistan ruler Gen. Zia-Ul-Haq, who headed the Pak Army, when he visited Pakistan for an UNESCO event. The book also explains how Rajiv Gandhi, when he was the Prime Minister, had shown disinterest when Jagmohan had met him over development of Kashmir.

Stating that protests have started after the introduction of lessons on RSS Founder Hedgewar in school textbooks, Dr. Bhyrappa opined that Hedgewar was instrumental in generation of 'Sevaks' who never aspired for any power or position.

Pointing out that personalities like N. Venkoba Rao are a living example of this, he said that Prime Minister Narendra Modi is instrumental in carrying forward our rich culture and traditions.

Pointing out that he has gone through N. Venkoba Rao felicitation volume, he said that every writer who has written an article in the book, knew N. Venkoba Rao closely. He feels happy for having released the book, he added.

Former Minister P.G.R. Sindhia said that he got introduced to Venkoba Rao when he (Rao) happened to be the National Secretary of ABVP in the 1970s.

Recalling that Venkoba Rao played a vital role in shaping his career, he said that he was also instrumental in shaping hundreds of leaders such as RSS leader Dattatreya Hosabale, current Assembly Speaker Vishweshwar Hegde Kageri etc.

Dr. Pradhan Gurudatta, who has edited the felicitation volume, said that Venkoba Rao started writing with his pen name 'Srikantha' and since then he has made his own contribution for literature and social service.

Chamarajanagar MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad presided. Veteran RSS leader M. Venkatram, veteran writer and social worker Prof. N. Venkoba Rao, 'Mysuru Mithra' columnist Dr. V. Ranganath, writer Ravindra Joshi and others were present.

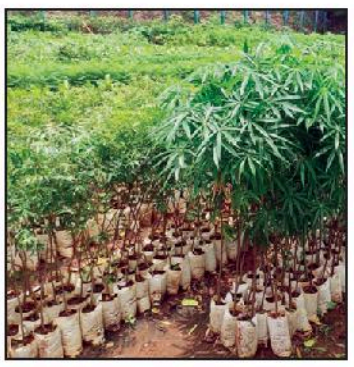
Huge demand for sandalwood, teak, silver oak and Melia dubia (hebbevu) saplings



Kamala Karikalan

Mysuru, June 6 (MTY&BCT)- As an encouragement for afforestation, the Forest Department will distribute 5 lakh saplings at concessional rates to the farmers of Mysuru district. Along with this, the Department has also planned to plant saplings along the 30-km route by the sides of the roads.

These are the plans chalked out by the Department as part of this year's World Environment Day. Saplings will be distributed to farmers at the three main nurseries maintained by the Department and also at the nurseries maintained at the taluk level.

Speaking to SOM, Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) Kamala Karikalan said that the five lakh saplings that will be distributed to the farmers have already been kept ready at the nurseries and among them are large quantities of sandalwood, teak, silver oak and Melia dubia (hebbevu) due to high demand.

These tree species provide additional income to the farmers and as such, there is a huge demand. Such trees are abundantly grown in Hunsur, Periyapatna, T. Narasipur, Nanjangud and H.D. Kote. Sizeable quantities of saplings are available of these species at district and taluk-level nurseries, she said.

Saplings will be distributed at concessional rates that range from Re. 1 to Rs. 3 per plant. While farmers have to produce copies of RTC to avail of discounts, people of the city can take plants for environment day activities, to plant inside their house compounds, offices and schools without showing any documents.

Inside the city limits, the Department plans to provide green cover to 30 kilometres of roads in Vijayanagar Fourth Stage and R.T. Nagar. Many stretches inside these layouts are barren now and one lakh saplings will be planted under the city greening project, the DCF added.

To encourage afforestation, the Department pays Rs. 125 per sapling for three years to farmers who will have to shoulder the responsibility of maintaining the saplings. If any association wants to grow saplings, it pays Rs. 5 per plant for three years. However, there is a limit of 400 saplings.

"But today, 21st century India is moving ahead with the approach of people-centric governance," Modi said at the event where Union Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman was also present.

On the occasion, Modi also launched a special series of coins that are also 'visually impaired friendly'. The coins of Re. 1, Rs. 2, Rs. 5, Rs. 10 and Rs. 20 denominations will have the Azadi Ka Amrit Mahotsav design, are not commemorative coins and will be part of the circulation.

'These new series of coins will remind people of the goal of 'amrit kaal' and motivate people to work towards the development of the country," Modi said. The PM also launched the 'Jan Samarth portal' - a credit-linked portal of 12 Government schemes.

"India has also worked on different dimensions in the last eight years. The public participation that increased in the country during this period has given impetus to the development of the country and has empowered the poorest of the country's citizens," the PM said.

"Swachh Bharat Abhiyan gave an opportunity to the poor to live with dignity. Facilities like pucca houses, electricity, gas, water and free treatment increased the dignity of the poor, increased facilities. The scheme of free ration during the Corona period freed more than 80 crore countrymen from the fear of hunger," he added.

Modi said in the reforms that the country has done in the last eight years, great priority has also been given to the youth to show their potential.

Soon, currency notes may have watermarks of Tagore and Kalam

New Delhi, June 6 (Agencies)- The Finance Ministry and the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) are reportedly considering using the watermark figures of Rabindranath Tagore and Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam on a new series of bank notes of some denominations.

At present, the denominations of the notes that we use are of Mahatma Gandhi, the father of the nation. Gandhiji first featured on Indian currency notes in 1969 when a design series in honour of the 100th birth anniversary celebrations of the leader was issued.

According to reports, the Security Printing and Minting Corporation of India (SPMCIL) and the RBI sent two sets of sample watermarks with Tagore, Gandhiji and Kalam to IIT-Delhi Emeritus Professor Dilip T. Shahani, who will pick a set and send it back. The final decision will be taken by the Government at the highest levels.

This is the first time that RBI is considering using images of famous personalities other than Mahatma Gandhi on the bank currency notes.

An internal RBI Committee sent a report in 2020 proposing that besides Gandhiji, watermarks of Tagore and Kalam could be included in currency notes. A year later, Bharatiya Reserve Bank Note Mudran Pvt Ltd and SPMCIL's Security Paper Mill were asked by the RBI to design watermark samples. These have been sent to Shahani to take a call.

Rabindranath Tagore is a Nobel Laureate and remembered as one of Bengal's greatest icons while India's 11th President, Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam is also known as the Missile Man.

Rise in Yoga performers

The Federation has over 250 members. "A heartening factor is that many schools that did not have Yoga as an activity are now having dedicated daily Yoga classes for students and there are more than 450 educational institutions that have dedicated full-time Yoga teachers. Also, Yoga is being taught in gyms. There are over 400 gyms in Mysuru and Yoga is taught as part of the exercise session," Srihari revealed.

"The scope of Yoga development has increased with many trainees becoming trainers and they are even going to other places taking their knowledge. Every year, there is an increase of 20 percent in Yoga performers. From the first-year crowd of 10,000, we have reached the 55,000 mark and crossed the 1 lakh mark too. Last year, we had more than one lakh participants online due to COVID," he said.

Some of the prominent institutions that train Yoga enthusiasts including foreign students are Sri Pathanjali Yoga Shikshana Samithi, Yoga Sports Foundation, Mysuru Yoga Okkuta, Bharath Swabhiman Trust, GSS Yoga, Mysuru Yoga Association, Krishna Pattabhi Jois Ashtanga Institute, Vedavyasa Foundation, Bharath Shetty Yoga and Nirvana Yoga Shaale.

The COVID pandemic affected Yoga classes for foreign students and now they have started looking up. During the pre-COVID period, there used to be at least 1,000 to 1,500 foreigners learning Yoga in Mysuru. Now all those who have been enrolled during the COVID period are being trained. "A lot depends on Government's International flight policies," he added.

Two truckloads of plastic trash cleaned from Anechowkur Gate

Mysuru, June 6 (BCT)- While many institutions, residents associations, NGOs and government bodies were busy planting saplings and watering them inside their premises in Mysuru yesterday as part of World Environment Day, a group of youths ventured into the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve near Anechowkur Gate to pick up trash by the side of the roads that had been mindlessly discarded by commuters.

The initiative was led by Coorg Wildlife Society (CWS) in association with the Forest Department and by the time the cleaning campaign ended, two truckloads of plastic waste and trash were collected. Over 110 people drawn from the CWS, students of Mysore University, Mysore Institute of Commerce and Arts (MICA) and Coorg Institute of Technology (CIT), Ponnampet, were part of the clean-up, supported by over 50 Forest Department staff.

This is for the first time such a campaign was held inside the reserve forest and in all, a 25-kilometre stretch was cleaned on both sides. The participants were divided into three groups and the drive began at Anechowkur Gate on the Mysuru-Kodagu border. While one group proceeded towards Boodithittu near Periyapatna, the other two cleaned the roadsides till Allur Gate and Mathigodu Elephant Camp.

Three Range Forest Officers (RFOs) were guiding the cleaning drive and at the same time keeping an eye on wild animals.

According to CWS office-bearer Karthamada Naveen Bopaiah, on average over 100 vehicles pass through this stretch in just one hour and most of the vehicles are Kerala-registered as the road connects Mysuru and Kerala via Kodagu. Regular commuters discard empty food plastic containers, water bottles, covers and even garbage. "There is not much awareness here like in Bandipur where littering is completely banned and all those who enter the reserve forests are warned of penal action. Here the commuters just throw waste and speed away," he said.

At the entrance of the Nagarahole Tiger Reserve, gates must be erected and each vehicle stopping by must be made aware of the Eco-Sensitive Zone (ESZ), he opined and also regretted that law permits levying a fine of Rs. 1,000 for any violation. "Rs. 1,000 is a paltry amount. Punishment must be stringent and steep fines must act as a deterrent," he said.

AIDSO demands continuation of last year's school textbooks

Mysuru, June 6 (PM&TRR)- Activists of All India Democratic Students' Organisation (AIDSO) staged a protest near DC's Office today demanding the continuation of last year's school textbooks for this academic year also.

"The recent revision of school textbooks has created a controversy and attracted objections from across the State, forcing the State Government to correct the mistakes related to Basavanna. But it is silent about correcting the anomalies in the textbooks with regard to Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, Savitribai Phule, Kanakadasa and Purandaradasa," said the protesters.

"Many texts which promote morality and values written by eminent writers like A.N. Murthy Rao, P. Lankesh, Sara Aboobacker and others have been removed. Earlier, lessons about revolutionary leader Bhagat Singh was removed but included later when it faced a lot of criticism from the public. Even after that, many mistakes were noticed in revised textbooks. When this is the situation, it is better to continue with the textbooks of last year," they demanded.

Later, the protesters submitted a memorandum to the DC, addressed to Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai, urging him to continue with last year's textbooks. Leaders Ugranarasimhegowda, G.P. Basavaraj, AIDSO President Subhash, Secretary Chandrakala and others participated in the protest.

Rafael Nadal juggernaut decimates young Ruud at Roland Garros

as the legend lifts his 22nd Grand Slam title at French Open-2022

The 5th of June, 2022 renders a "Red Letter Day" in the annals of Grand Slam History as the impermeable Rafael Nadal lifted his 22nd Title and the 14th at the French Open — two more than his contemporary legends Roger Federer and Novak Djokovic. Though Nadal finished in straight sets 6-3, 6-3, 6-0, the match had a thorough blend of the 'Power House' of the 23-year-old/young Norwegian Vs sheer 'Mind Reading' tactics of the 36-year-old/young Spaniard, combined with the versatility of placements — was a total joy.

It was the maiden appearance at a Grand Slam for the young Norwegian. He had not played the legend in any encounter either. But, Casper Ruud has been training for a few years at Nadal's Academy at Mallorca, Spain. He has played only a few sets with Nadal in the training camps.

Though a departure from the heading, it is only fair that we reminisce the 'Ladies Singles Event' at the Court Phillippe Chatrier.

18-year-old Coco Gauff became the youngest woman to reach the final of a Grand Slam tournament since Maria Sharapova did it as a 17-year-old in 2004. Gauff defeated unseeded Italian Martina Trevisan 6-3, 6-1 in the semi-finals on the 2nd of June. Gauff also became the youngest American woman to reach the final of a Grand Slam tournament since 17-year old Serena Williams achieved the feat at the 1999 US Open.

Between the finalists 18-year-old/young Coco Gauff of the USA, and the 22-year-old/young Polish, Iga Sweatek they had dropped only one set en route to the finals; thus underpinning the competence of both. But, the Semis between Coco and Martina created a few doubts. It is only fair to observe here that the Italian Martina Trevisan looked more powerful and versatile in the semi-finals against Coco. A thigh injury in the middle of the encounter caused some distress to the Italian as Coco walked off with a straight sets victory in the semis. Hard luck to the Italian.

She is sure to emerge strong with times. The challenge to Coco, however, was to face the agile and confident Polish, Iga, in the finals.

In the 68 minutes finals against the American, Iga Swiatek captivated the tennis world. On Saturday, her blistering, athletic play dismantled teenage Coco Gauff, 6-1, 6-3, and Swiatek emerged as the Women's Singles Champion at the 2022 French Open. She took the first four games of the match as she marched ahead with gusto. It marked Swiatek's second major title and her 35th straight victory — tying her with Venus Williams for the longest WTA winning streak of this millennium.

Honestly, Coco was found wanting in all finer aspects of the game. But for mere fundamentals, she never exhibited any class that could even pose a threat to the Polish. I am sure her father-cum-coach will prune her in the years to come. We thank the duo for the entertainment.

Coming to the finer aspects of men's finals, the ageing Rafa never looked ruffled against his mentee, Ruud. It was never that Ruud was short of class. But, he was overpowered by the thinking abilities of the legend as he constantly drained the Norwegian — making him sprint across the court using the base line and corners tactfully. Rafa also used his enormous experience with his drop shots and cross court volleys that Ruud could not counter. Many a point won by Ruud was powerful and tactful too but the legend had the last laugh. Rich complements to the Norwegian for his brave efforts. Surely, he gained some valuable experience in the finals.

The world knows that Rafa is facing issues with the fragility of his feet. Yet, his calm demeanour and gentlemanly attitude have carried him to the iconic levels that he has reached. Holding the trophy, he said "I don't know how far I can go but surely I will keep pushing myself." All the best to him going forward.

It is believed that Roland Garros is undergoing major renovations soon. We hope to witness French Open 2023 in refurbished stadia.

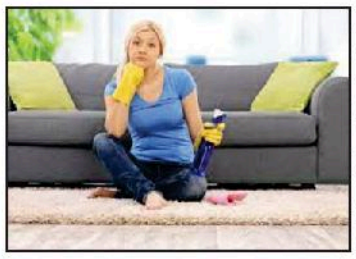
WORD OF THE DAY

Perfunctory

Pronunciation: per-FUNK-tuh-ree.



Meaning: Perfunctory is used to describe something that is done without energy or enthusiasm, as a duty or out of habit.

Origin: A perfunctory explanation of the origins of perfunctory would be this: it comes from Latin. Borrowed in the late 16th century, the word is specifically from the Late Latin perfunctorius, meaning "done in a careless or superficial manner." Perfunctorius ultimately comes from two Latin sources, per-, meaning "through," and fungi, meaning "to perform." Fungi is also a source to such words as function, defunct, and fungible, but not to fungus; that word is also from Latin, but it is most likely a modification of the Greek word spongos, meaning "sponge."

Example: "In those days we offered a pick-up and delivery service for bike repairs. Usually the transaction was perfunctory, but not with Lou. He used to open the door to his house and invite us to come inside for a coffee or soda." —Bill Durham, The Islander News (Key Biscayne, Florida), 21 Apr. 2022.

THE ODD WORD

Perfidious

Tending to betray.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Play hooky

Meaning: The phrase 'Play Hooky' means to skip school, work or any other obligation without a justified excuse.

Origin: The origin of the term "hooky" is in the 14th century Dutch game 'hoekje', or as it's known in American culture — 'hide and go seek'. However, the first recorded use of the phrase "playing hooky" was in 1842 in the Brooklyn Daily Eagle: "When I was a child, I thought as a child.... hunted birds' nests, played hooky, and chased butterflies...." The analogy behind the story is playing games while skipping school.

Example: "My friends are playing hooky today so that they can be first in line to buy tickets for the concert tonight."

SWR Mysuru Division extends 'One Station One Product' scheme to 67 Railway Stations

Mysuru, June 6- Encouraged by the positive feedback from travelling passengers to the 'One Station One Product' scheme at Mysuru Station as well as the 'Vocal for Local,' a programme aimed to popularise local indigenous products at the Railway Station to provide an opportunity to passengers to experience the rich heritage of India and creating additional income opportunities for the marginalised section of the society, Mysuru Division of South Western Railway (SWR) intends to extend this scheme to 67 Railway Stations across the Division coming under Mysuru, Chamarajanagar, Hassan, Mangaluru, Madikeri, Tumakuru, Shivamogga, Chikmagaluru, Chitradurga, Davangere and Haveri districts.

'One Station One Product' announced in the Union Budget 2022-23 aims to encourage indigenous and specialised products and crafts of the local region through providing display and sale outlets at Railway Stations across the Division.

Range of products which includes handicrafts, artefacts, textiles and handlooms, traditional garments, local agricultural produce, processed/ semi-processed foods, Spices and forest products, sandalwood-based products, coffee and cardamom has been identified for a particular Station which is indigenous to that location.

Mysuru Division has proposed to invite applications from the agencies, artisans, weavers, craftsmen, Self-Help Groups, tribal cooperatives and marginalised & weaker sections of the society dealing with these products, to sell their products at Railway Stations across the Division.

The duration of the stall will be for a period of 15 days at a nominal fee of Rs. 1,000. If more than one application is received for a particular Station, a priority roster will be made and established through a draw of lots and this will continue till all applicants in the priority roster are exhausted. A temporary Functional Stall with easy access to passengers will be made available to the participants. Participants can sell the products at the Station and on platforms also.

Rahul Agarwal, Divisional Railway Manager (DRM), Mysuru Division, has urged the artisans to make full use of this opportunity. A list of the products identified for each Station is available on http://www.swr.indianrailways.gov.in/ Applications will be invited soon and the date will be notified. Interested people can visit Senior Divisional Commercial Manager at Mysuru or contact on Mob: 88843-03801 or 79775-09065 or 97311-59568, according to a press release from Dr. Manjunath Kanamadi, Senior Divisional Commercial Manager and Senior PRO.
